ONCAMPUS BOSTON

is your path to success

At ONCAMPUS Boston, located in the heart of America's #1 college town, we prepare international students to succeed – academically, socially, and professionally – with a 1-year immersion program that enables you to earn college credit while gaining a deeper understanding of the U.S., its education system, and which options are best for you.

The United States, widely recognized as a world leader in education, offers a complex array of choices, from types of institutions (colleges, universities, specialty schools – over 4,000 in total), to majors and minors, to extracurricular activities that can support networking and build leadership skills.

With so many choices, it can be a challenge for any student to determine what is best for them. In fact, nearly 40% of all U.S. college students end up transferring from one school to another.

In addition, the demand for a degree from a U.S. institution of higher education has never been greater. As a result, many schools can be selective when choosing which students to accept into their programs. ONCAMPUS Boston helps students navigate the complex university admissions process and provides them with the tools needed to succeed in their degree program.

Declaring a field of study at a U.S. college or university.

ONCAMPUS Boston provides the support and guidance to help you explore different fields of study and career paths. While you are free to choose the area of study you wish to focus on (this is referred to in the U.S. as your "major"), you will also be required to complete a number of general education courses which will help you learn how to think critically, research properly, and communicate effectively. At most U.S. schools you can complete up to two years of study before you need to declare your major.

WHY STUDY IN THE U.S.?

Choices – no other country comes close to offering as many learning options

General education – graduates are well-rounded with the skills and knowledge employers seek

Flexibility – up to two years allowed before choosing a major; easy to transfer to another school

Diversity – the U.S., and Boston in particular, attracts students from around the world

Resources – support for international students, including housing, academics, and student groups is extensive at most U.S. schools

Prestige – a degree from a U.S. college is recognized globally as a distinctive achievement

Internships – most education programs include opportunities to work in the field before graduation, providing valuable work experience and business contacts

English immersion – there's no better way to improve language skills than living and learning in the U.S.

Travel opportunities – Boston is just four hours from New York City, and a six-hour flight from Los Angeles

American culture – discover the difference between the real world and what you've seen on TV

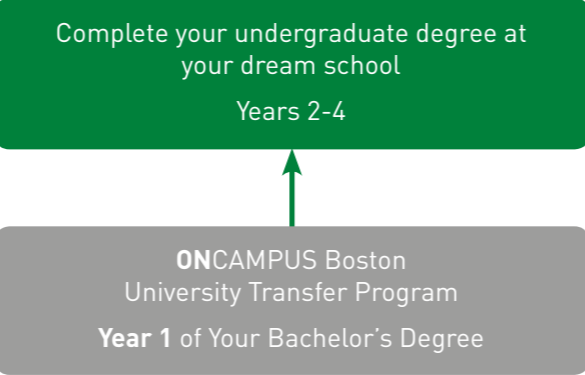

ONCAMPUS Boston SUPPORTS YOUR SUCCESS

ONCAMPUS Boston offers a first-year university program at Wheelock College, a prestigious private university located in the heart of Boston's Fenway neighborhood.

Students earn 28-32 credits taking a normal freshman course load in classes that are taught by Wheelock College faculty to small groups of international students. In addition, students receive supplemental instruction and training in English and other academic skills.

Students live on campus in Wheelock Residence Halls, and have access every day to advisors, peer tutors, and educational counselors to help them acclimate academically and socially. ONCAMPUS Boston selected Wheelock College based on its reputation for academics, superior location, and the overall friendliness and welcoming nature of Wheelock students.

"Before choosing ONCAMPUS Boston, I was confused. I knew what I wanted to major in, but I didn't know the way to get in to the universities I wanted. This program helps me to prepare before transferring to the school where I will complete my degree."

A great first step towards the university that is right for you

As you work on successfully completing your first year, ONCAMPUS Boston will help you with the critical next step – deciding which college or university is the right one for you. We will help you explore and understand your options, work with you on the application process, and show you how to transfer the 28-32 college credits you have earned.

Although you may apply to transfer to any school you wish, you also have the option to enroll at any of ONCAMPUS Boston's partner schools. These exceptional public and private educational institutions, including Wheelock College, recognize the value of our program for international students and will allow you to transfer and enroll at their school through an expedited application process and without SAT or ACT exam requirements. They will also allow you to transfer all of the credits you have earned.*

*Wheelock College is accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC). NEASC also accredits 2000 other prestigious institutions of higher education including Harvard University, Yale University, Boston College, and Dartmouth College. While ONCAMPUS Boston cannot guarantee that all of the credits you earn during our program will transfer to the educational institution of your choice, the U.S. system of accreditation makes it highly likely that they will.

The best way to begin your UNIVERSITY EXPERIENCE

Wheelock College, with just 1,200 students, provides a learning environment that is safe, comfortable, and supportive.

Complete with a dining hall, student center, coffee bar, and sports and fitness center, Wheelock has everything that makes studying at a small college so appealing.

Wheelock is also a part of the Colleges of the Fenway, a group of six schools all located in Boston's Fenway neighborhood. These schools, which have a combined enrollment of over 12,000 students, share some facilities, social activities, and student clubs and organizations – everything that makes studying at a large university so appealing.

ONCAMPUS Boston offers you the best of both worlds, providing the ideal American university experience!

Be a part of the Colleges of the Fenway community which includes these prestigious schools:

- Wheelock College
- Emmanuel College
- Massachusetts College of Art and Design
- Massachusetts College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences University
- Simmons College
- Wentworth Institute of Technology

Take the same classes other college freshmen are taking

In addition to instruction in writing and speaking English, you will take the same classes as other Wheelock students, from the very same Wheelock faculty, and earn the same amount of college credit (12–16 credits per semester). After successfully completing ONCAMPUS Boston's first-year experience, you will have earned 28–32 credits and be on track to earn the 120 credits most schools require to receive a Bachelor's Degree.

Live on a university campus alongside American students

Like most college freshmen, you will live in a residence hall (also called a dormitory or "dorm" for short), with other male and female students, that is located right on Wheelock's campus. This is a mandatory part of ONCAMPUS Boston's program because residence halls are an ideal place to make friends, socialize, and acclimate to college life in America. You will share a room with another student of the same gender who may be American or another international student who speaks a different language than you. Your floor will have a resident assistant/RA (also a student at Wheelock) who organizes social activities and is there to answer questions. There is also a resident director, a professional who is responsible for creating a safe and happy environment for everyone in the building. A meal plan is included and you'll find the dining hall and campus cafes are great places to socialize.

"Living on campus is a safe and wonderful experience. I enjoy interacting with students from different countries and making friends from different places. Wheelock College is equipped with everything that a student needs."

University Success Seminar

This weekly seminar offers valuable skill-building sessions that assist students in acclimating to American university study. For two hours each week, students will learn about the resources available at Wheelock, address intercultural understanding, explore extra-curricular opportunities, and also receive instruction on core academic skills to help them study effectively, make presentations, and much more. This is a group setting in which students will learn about the complicated university admissions process and the steps needed to successfully transfer to their final university and degree program.

Optional SAT/ACT Preparation Course

Although our partner universities do not require exam results, some U.S. universities require SAT or ACT exam scores as part of their application. ONCAMPUS Boston offers a 20-hour intensive SAT/ACT preparation course to help students succeed on these standardized examinations. Completed in one semester, this course comes at a minimal additional cost and prepares students to take the exam, which is offered at a number of nearby locations.
